DREAM to DO – Kent Julian - Speaker

What you believe in is evidenced by the steps you take, not just by the words you say... which means success isn't the result of saying the right things. True success only occurs when you live out what you say you believe, even when the circumstances in your life don't go your way. In other words, you must lead your life instead letting life lead you! In this inspiring, hilarious, and empowering keynote, Kent Julian shows students a proven system for overcoming their toughest challenges and step into their best life!
