

Geology Internet Sites

Web Address	Description
www.oceansofkansas.com	Mike Everhart is your "host on a virtual journey more than 85 million year "back in time" to the ocean waters of Kansas. Lots & lots of information.
www.kgs.ukans.edu/Publications/ancient/rep01.html	An introduction to common Kansas fossils, including history of Kansas. (Ancient Life in Kansas) http://www.kgs.ukans.edu/kgs.html	You will learn about the science of geology and the geological landscapes of Kansas. (From Sea to Prairie) http://www.kgs.ukans.edu/Extension/home.html	GeoKansas-the place to learn about Kansas Geology. Pictures of rocks, fossils, minerals, and lots more!
www.fhsu.edu/sternberg/	Information on all of the exhibits at the Sternberg museum in Hays, Kansas www.emporia.edu/earthsci/museum/museum.htm	This site has information on the Johnston Geology Museum in Emporia. You can see a mosasaur, giant ground sloth, mastodon, and others.
www.keystonegallery.com/	Art, Fossils, and Curiosities in Western KS
http://csd.unl.edu/csd/programs/fossils.htm	This site has information, images, descriptions, and the amount of the fossils found in Nebraska.
http://www.dmnh.org/denverbasin2/fossil	Introduction to fossils. Broken down into vertebrates, invertebrates, and plants. Guides thru 6 basic steps from discovery to museum.
http://cretaceousfossils.com/	Dedicated to Cretaceous fossils from the US and around the world. This is a relatively new site and still growing.

http://www.oakley-kansas.com/fick/	Fick Fossil Museum; Monument Rocks http://vulcan.wr.usgs.gov/LivingWith/VolcanicPast/Places/volcanic_past_kansas.html	Kansas's volcanic rocks; volcanic ash. Links to other states' volcanoes.
www.amfed.org	Info on the American Federation of Mineralogical Societies.
www.rmfmts.org/	There is information on the Rocky Mountain Federation of Mineralogical Societies.
www.wuacc.edu/kas/	Kansas Academy of Science; including membership, activities, and meetings.
www.commean.com/rocks	Recipes for growing crystals at home.
http://www.ucmp.berkeley.edu/	Univ of California, Berkeley, Museum of Paleontology. References, tours, lesson plans.
http://www.eyesoftime.com/teacher/dino.htm	Lots of links to dinosaur sites.
www.minerals.com	The Mineral & Gemstone Kingdom (Complete Information Guide to Rocks, Minerals, and Gemstones)
www.ZoomDinosaurs.com	Comprehensive on-line hypertext books about dinosaurs.
www.geosearchengine.com	Internet search engine (GeoSearch) which is strictly geology-related.